NOI∩SE is developing joint curricula which are taught in the form of a yearly international summer school. In this yearly Summer School, courses are offered on European Women's Studies from multicultural and interdisciplinary perspectives, taught in clusters focusing on themes like Feminist Theory, Women's History, Feminist Literary Theory, Cultural Studies and State & (In)equality.

NOI∩SE stands for the Network Of Interdisciplinary Women's Studies in Europe and is made possible by a grant of the EU Lifelong Learning Programme (Erasmus Intensive Programmes, DG Education & Culture).

Starting in 1994, the NOI∩SE Summer School has been a successful yearly event, giving students and teachers the opportunity to exchange their knowledge in the field of Women's Studies in an international context.
